TWENTY-EIGHTH SAILS IN MAY

Pennsylvania's Iron Division Duc Home About Middle of Month Pennsylvania's Iron Division, the Twenty-eighth, will each the United States about the middle of May, according to information contained in letters received here from officers and men. Colonel George C. Rickards, of Franklin, Pa., commander of the 112th Infantry, composed of central and western Pennsylvania men, has written his fam-ily that the division will sail May 3, It has been placed on the sailing lists by General Pershing for early sailing by General Pershing for early salling in May.

The division will have seen just a year's service when it reaches home, and the men will wear the two gold stripes of a year overseas. The division saw some of the hardest service of the war, was classed among the five strongest divisions in the A. E. F. and sustained casualties heavier than all but three regular army divisions.

Nearly 6000 Philadelphians went over with the Twenty-eighth Division. Since the armistice has been signed it has been billeted near the border between France and Luxenburg, being part of the army of occupation.
